Mine Official Sees Hope For Future Coal Market

There is hope that the present working force of Coleman Collieries Ltd., of about 600 will continue operations on a four-day work week as compared to only two or three days before recent layoffs of about 300 miners occurred, H. Wilton-Clark, general manager, told The Albertan Tuesday.

Company officials expect that there will again be a bigger market for western Canadian coal in years to come. Every effort is, therefore, made to work the mine in such a manner as to be able to resume full scale operations when conditions improve.

Mr. Wilton-Clark emphasized that Coleman will not become a ghost town as long as a market can be found for current production and the present working force can continue operations, since this gives miners still employed better earnings than before.

Even after consideration of all factors, Mr. Wilton-Clark could not see any possibility of re-employment of those miners who lost their jobs due to economic developments. He stressed that management was not in a position to operate the mines any longer with the full working force. Re-adjustments had to be made to keep the company on a sound basis.

The annual meeting of Coleman Collieries Ltd. was held in the Palliser Hotel Monday and the following officers were reappointed: President, John Gordon, of Montreal; vice-president, Clarence Tait, Calgary; managing director, F. J. Harquail; general manager, H. Wilton-Clark; general superintendent, H. Miller; secretary, R. Upton. Members of the board of directors are: Eric Richardson, C.A., Calgary; Mr. Harquail and Mr. Wilton-Clark.

Union Leader Seeks Tariffs, Subsidies

Placing of tariffs on American coal and Dominion government subsidies for western Canadian coal were offered as solutions for the Alberta coal mining crisis by Edward Boyd, executive secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, District 18, during a meeting of the Young Progressive Conservatives held in the MacLennan auditorium Tuesday evening.

Mr. Boyd pointed out that 22,000,000 tons of coal were annually imported from the United States to fill Canadian fuel needs. Canadian mines, on the other hand, filled orders amounting to between 15,000,000 and 17,000,000 tons per annum to the nation.

Despite these facts, the speaker said that George Prudham, minister of mines and technical surveys had said that the federal government "wouldn't stand" for corrective tariffs.

The speaker explained the seriousness of the problem from the point of view of district 18 (western Canadian miners). He said that since 1946—a peak year with the production of 8,824,000 tons—there has been a 3,000,000 ton decline in production. This resulted in the closing of 18 mines and the laying off of close to 1,000 Alberta miners.

Coal miners and coal communities will "continue to press the governments for a proper coal policy" until something is done about the current crisis, the speaker said.

Surprise Party

A surprise farewell party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gray was held May 1st at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fraser. Dancing and lunch were enjoyed. Mr. J. Fraser presented the honored couple with an electric clock. Mr. Gray expressing their sincere thanks and regrets at leaving Coleman. The Grays will make their home at Arrowood, Alta.

Beet Work For 'Pass Miners

Some 60 unemployed miners from the Coleman area will move into Southern Alberta within the next two weeks to help alleviate the need for additional beet workers and farm helpers.

James Lynn, manager of the local office of the National Employment Service, along with Keith Pilling, agriculture superintendent of the Canadian Sugar Factories at Picture Butte, visited Coleman Friday and both men stated that they were "pleased with the reception and results of their meeting with the miners."

Faced with a loss of incoming immigrant labor this year, and with the task of finding some 800 workers for nearly 4,000 acres of beets, employment officials looked to the unemployed miners as one group of potential workers for beet fields and as additional farm labor.

Mr. Lynn stated that nine families had been enlisted to work in the beet fields, along with four general farm hands and five single men.

The general attitude of the group in Coleman was that if work in sugar beet fields and on farms was available at a fair wage, they would be ready and willing to accept the work, Mr. Lynn said.

The employment official also stated that, after further discussion, additional families from the areas where mines have closed might be available to alleviate the present worker shortage.

Assembly Warden Visits Victoria Rebekah Lodge

On Tuesday, May 4 Mrs. Elizabeth Hickmore, Warden of the Rebekah Assembly of Alberta, paid her official visit to Victoria Rebekah Lodge, No. 7.

A very beneficial and enjoyable evening was spent with several visitors from Blaimore and Bellevue Lodges present.

A delicious lunch was served by the committee after which Mrs. H. Gushul, N.G., presented Mrs. Hickmore with a gift from the order, for which she gave her sincere thanks. During her visit in Coleman she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. Gushul.

On Wednesday afternoon a tea was held in honor of Mrs. Hickmore and members at the home of Mrs. T. Holstead. Those assisting were Mrs. J. Nash, Mrs. J. Kerr, Mrs. H. Henry, Mrs. H. Gushul, Mrs. A. Phillips and Mrs. L. Fisher.

Nurses' Association Hold Regular Meeting

The Crows Nest Chapter of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Margaret Johnson in Coleman Thursday evening when it was announced that the winner of the Tip Top Tailors suit raffish by the Lethbridge branch, had been won by Mrs. Frampton of Edmonton. The local chapter had lent its support to the selling of tickets for the Lethbridge group.

It was also reported that the baking sale held in the Simpson-Sears mail order offices in Blaimore during the latter part of last month had been very successful.

The group then selected eight nurses to canvass the town of Coleman for donors to the Red Cross blood clinic which is to be held in the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital here on May 30. Anyone wishing to donate blood are requested to contact the Nurses' Association.

The meeting then agreed to sponsor a raffle for a coffee table with the date for the affair to be announced at a later date.

The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Arleen Richards in Coleman on June 18 when Miss Marie Berze, R.N., and Mrs. Agnes Ryan will give a report on the Dominion Nurses biennial convention to be held in Banff on June 7.

Government Not Leaving A Stone Unturned To Assist Coleman Miners

Mayor Frank Aboussef and Deputy Mayor Jock Ramsey returned to Coleman on Tuesday evening following meeting in Edmonton with Minister of Industries and Labor M. Willmore. Other officials present at the conference were Deputy Minister J. Oberholzer, W. A. R. Rees director of single men's relief, Mine director J. A. Dutton, J. A. Ferguson provincial immigration supervisor, J. Whittaker secretary of the Coal Operators Association and John Stokoluk and Mr. Susner of the District 18 UMWA of Calgary.

In a statement to the Journal Mr. Aboussef stated that the government were not leaving a stone unturned in their efforts to assist the Coleman miners in becoming rehabilitated in work. Mayor Aboussef further stated that the meeting in Edmonton had discussed a many point program for miners, details of which would be made available to the public in the very near future.

It was also disclosed that Mr. Ferguson will return to the Pass in the near future to further probe into the unemployment and rehabilitation of miners question. Mr. Ferguson will visit here as soon as a survey of unemployed miners is made in mines in Northern Alberta.

A more complete report of the Edmonton meeting will be given in the next issue of The Journal.

Well Known Crows Nest Pass Resident Passes Away

Mrs. Ruth Howe, 86 years of age and an old timer of Blaimore, passed away in the Crows Nest Pass Municipal Hospital here on Friday, May 7, where she had been undergoing treatment for a broken hip she sustained in a fall in her home several weeks ago.

Born in Bilsdon, England, she came direct to Blaimore in March, 1910, where she has resided since.

Besides her being one of the oldest persons in Blaimore, Mrs. Howe was also one of the oldest members in the Crows Nest Chapter of the IOOE she was a member of the United Church in Blaimore, and had taught Sunday School for 52 years, and was still a faithful church-goer, attending her church on Sundays.

She was a very active member of the local Blaimore Red Cross group and during the First World War and at that time put her efficiency to use by having knitted countless articles for the enlisted men. During World War Two she again came to the call of the Red Cross when she knitted over 1200 pairs of woolen socks for the army, navy and air force boys from Blaimore besides a great number of turtle neck sweaters that were distributed by the Red Cross.

She was predeceased by her husband Walter, 76 on March 10, 1939, and by a son Walter at Vancouver in 1947, and by another son, Charlie, at the Killam, B. C., in March, 1953.

Surviving are two sons, Gus at New Westminster, and Joe in Calgary; three daughters, Mrs. A. C. (Ruby) Decoux at Blaimore; Mrs. Lucy Murphy at Victoria, and Mrs. May Harmer at Blaimore; a sister, Mrs. K. Sergeant at Calgary; 19 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted from the United Church in Blaimore and interment will be in the Union cemetery. The Rev. T. R. Haythorne of Blaimore will officiate at the services.

Date for the funeral has not yet been set.

Shower

A delightful party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Fraser April 30 in honor of Mrs. Danny Fraser who recently arrived to take up residence in Coleman. The honored guest was presented with a corsage by Mrs. Newsome, corsages also presented Mrs. J. V. Fraser and Mrs. Newsome. Cards were enjoyed, honors going to Mrs. Eunice Fraser, Mrs. U. Tiberghien and Mrs. Betty Symmanek. Following cards, a dainty lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs. U. Gray and Mrs. Evelyn Bell. The lunch prize was won by Mrs. Phemie Bernard. The guest of honor was the recipient of many lovely gifts for which she ably thanked the ladies present.

Project To Start Shortly

Calgary Power has announced their intention to construct a 3 1/4 million dollar dam at the Pocaters site of the Kananaskis country north of Coleman.

The installed capacity of the plant will be 18,000 HP. Some indication of its size can be gained by comparing it to the 22,000 HP plant at the Bearsapaw site just west of Calgary on the Bow River. Point of diversion will be a dam constructed on the Kananaskis River, approximately a mile below the outlet of the Lower Kananaskis Lake, some 50 miles in a straight line southwest of Calgary.

The water will be diverted from the dam through a pipeline to a nearby powerhouse at which point it will be returned to the river.

FLOODS 85 ACRES

The storage reservoir formed by raising the Lower Kananaskis Lake some 39 feet will flood approximately 85 acres of the Kananaskis River Valley above the point of diversion and will provide some 45,000 acre feet of storage.

Water supply for the development will be derived from the flow of the Kananaskis River and its tributaries with the power from the plant to be sold in the territory now served by the company.

Clean-Up Outdoors Too, Fire Chief Recommends

Don't overlook the outside of your house during Spring Clean-Up Week, Fire Chief Montabetti cautioned residents of Coleman today.

In making his plea for an outdoor clean-up, Chief Montabetti said dry weeds, dead grass, weathered and rotting wood, and other combustible rubbish can act as tinder for any stray spark and lead to a destructive fire.

He urged householders to "fix up as well as clean up" in order to prevent home fires. Keep all exterior surfaces of the house painted and in good repair. Replace combustible wood shingle roofs with spark-resistant roofing.

Outdoor clean-up is also a wise Civil Defence measure, the Chief added. He said the National Fire Protection Association and Civil Defence officials warn that rubbish is a major reason for the spread of fire after an A-bomb attack. Heat from an A-bomb is so intense it can ignite combustibles at a great distance — combustibles like weathered and rotting wood as well as the obvious varieties of trash in poorly kept streets and yards.

Development Of Use Of Hudson Bay Route Moving Forward

(By W. J. Hansen in North Battleford Optimist-News)

The development of the use of the Hudson Bay Route has moved forward, steadily since the reopening of navigation following World War II, in 1945, and will continue to move forward from year to year with gathering momentum. The Port of Churchill is becoming increasingly better known both as a tourist attraction and in the increasing number of business firms who are becoming interested in using the port and route facilities during the season of navigation.

In 1931, there was an excursion from the prairies to the port of Churchill when the port was opened to navigation. By 1945-46, there were less than a dozen people remaining in Saskatchewan out of this group who had visited the port of Churchill. Today as a result of the seven annual excursions sponsored for Saskatchewan residents, more than 1,700 persons have visited the port of Churchill and, at first hand, have seen the ocean going ships, the port facilities, the historic Fort Prince of Wales and the frozen tundra of the north, the northern terrain, and the commercial possibilities for imports and exports to and from Saskatchewan.

The major operating problem affecting full use of the port and volume of shipping in connection with the port of Churchill, has been clearly set forth by Sir Clement Jones, C.B., chairman of the Commonwealth Shipping Committee who visited Churchill, Manitoba, in October, 1951, at the invitation of the Agent General for the Saskatchewan government. In appendix 111, to the Eleventh Report on Hudson Bay Marine Insurance Rates, 1952. It relates to spacing of ships and more intensive use of the present season of navigation. He states that "ordinarily there is no lack of cargo at Churchill for incoming ships"—The policy and operation of the Canadian wheat Board, the Canadian National Railways and the Port Manager, has always resulted in the terminal elevator being filled with grain at the opening of the season of navigation. In fact, due to the difficulty in securing the optimum spacing of the arrival of ships at Churchill—there are periods of congestion of cargo and as pointed out by Sir Clement Jones, in the 1951 season, on July 29, when the S.S. Westwinds arrived, not only was the elevator full but there were 800 cars, all the way from The Pas to Churchill. These could not be unloaded because the ships were not there. Sir Clement Jones points out that Churchill can take five ships comfortably—average time taken for loading a ship with grain was 12 hours. Each is at Churchill for two days and then away. "It is rare for ships to be kept waiting for grain." There was only one instance of this in 1951, when due to the tough wheat situation, a ship was delayed for a day waiting for a particular grade of grain.

In the shipping contracts, a ship is ordinarily allowed a two week period during which it can pick up its cargo. A study of the arrival dates of ships seems to indicate a reluctance of Masters of ships to enter the port at the earlier dates now open for navigation—July 22nd passed Cape Chidley. Since the Insurance Underwriters consider the route safe at this early date, it is expected that the masters of vessels will in the future have the confidence required to bring their vessels into port at the earlier possible dates. The arrival and spacing of ships is a matter that cannot be expected to be carried out with great precision as there are many factors affecting the possible arrival dates of ships—weather conditions and their general shipping schedule and other ports of call. It is a situation that is being watched closely by those concerned and in time it is hoped that when the season of navigation opens at Churchill there will be five vessels on hand to be accommodated.

Regarding imports and destinations on the prairies, a study of the cargo and respective volume indicates that, generally, importers still regard their use of the Hudson Bay Route as largely on a trial or experiment basis. This is understandable as many importers have delivery deadline dates and schedules to meet which do not naturally fit into the Churchill shipping pattern too well. Right after the war, motor car dealers, farm machinery dealers and some others enjoyed a "seller's" market and deliveries were taken by customers at any time that deliveries could be made. It is different today, supplies are more plentiful and customers take deliveries when it is to their best advantage. This is particularly true of commodities except in years of short supplies. Cement is needed mostly at the beginning of the construction period and not in latter part of August and September when weather conditions may choke off construction activity. The most that can be done, therefore, is to bring the facilities at Churchill to the attention of business men and leave the decision of routing entirely up to the prospective importer.

Alberta Rural Residents Urged To Watch For Rat Migration

With the coming of spring and warmer weather rats begin to migrate to new quarters into new buildings and other locations. Since springtime is normally clean-up time on farms and in urban centres it affords a good opportunity to check migration of the rat. Cleaning up yards, back alleys, trash, and waste will do much for convenience, health and beauty. Besides, if we remove the food and shelter, we threaten the rat's very existence, advises J. B. Gurba, Asst. Supervisor of Pest Control, Alberta Department of Agriculture.

No rats have been found west of the "Poison-proofed" area from the Cypress Hills to Provost, but new infestations have been found within the area at Butte, Chauvin, Paradise Valley and Lloydminster. These colonies are being exterminated by Warfarin poison and carbon monoxide gas. Recently 112 dead rats were dug up following gassing under a large granary at Schuler, Alberta. A black rat, found in a refrigerator car, was killed at the Edmonton CPR depot on Sunday, March 14th. This is normally a seacoast type and is the first reported in the province.

Rats are a definite threat along the Saskatchewan border area. Through freight cars and other shipping they may well become a threat to the rest of the province. They could happen to you! Mr. Gurba urges all residents, rural and urban, to keep sharp watch, especially during spring and fall since that is when rats are most apt to migrate. Report any suspicious to your local Pest Control Officer, he says. There are over 230 pest officers throughout the province, appointed by Municipal Districts, cities, towns and villages, to help with the local rat control. Warfarin poison baits are available free of charge, are safe to use and easy to apply. Contact your local pest officer or district agriculturist for further information.

Here's A Way To Escape High Cost Of Living

Do you want to escape the high cost of living? Or retire to a log cabin where there's plenty of fishing and hunting?

It's possible to do both right here in Alberta. At the town of Cadomin, 60-miles south of Edson, neat log houses are selling as low as $50 and the only other expenses are food and a $5 a year rental fee for the lot.

There's no joker in the deal. Cadomin has been a "ghost town" since the Canadian Dominion Mine Company, who built the town to house its employees, closed its mine about three years ago. The company is offering its town, house by house, to anyone who wants it.

The $50 price is for the cheapest type of home but others can be bought for $100 to $200. The annual $5 rental fee is payable to the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests since the town is built on Crown land.

Stores, homes and churches now are boarded up but a general store and a Canadian Legion hall still operate. A few retired miners live in the town still, fishing and hunting in the sportsmen's paradise around the deserted town and talking over the past when 1,000 people lived in the abandoned homes.

Living, though cheap, is not easy in Cadomin. There are no utilities and if you want coal for your stove you have to dig it yourself in the abandoned mine. There is ample water available in the nearby McLeod River but like the coal, it's not delivered to your door.

There is more to handling curtains and draperies than meets the eye. There is the matter of fixtures—the right kind and how to place them. A valance shelf may be needed, or a simple cornice box. These questions arise whether curtains are made at home or bought ready-made. If material is bought by the yard there are sewing details that will make the difference between a home-made and a professional job. Measurements are important too. How much to allow for headings, hems and shrinkage? Or how much fullness for different kinds of materials? Pattern 325 illustrates the steps in measuring to avoid waste: the various fixtures; hanging French pleats, traverse rigging, lining, problem windows. Price of pattern is 35c postpaid.

Children Bid Adieu To Pet Bears Bound For Zoo

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta.—Three modern bears added a new twist to an old fairy tale when they invaded the playroom of a pet little Goldilocks in Wanhams and wound up sleeping in her doll carriage.

The six-week old cubs, taken from a den about nine miles north of Wanhams by Noel Boisvert, were brought home and put in the playroom usually occupied by his golden-haired daughter Patsy and son Roger.

The little fellows, weighing only four pounds each, were sleepy at first but after learning to take nourishment from a bottle with a nipple on it soon started nuzzling themselves very much at home.

They soon fell into a three meals-a-day diet on a formula of canned milk, water and honey and spent the rest of the time wrestling each other,

the two Boisvert youngsters or simply sleeping.

The cubs had been discovered by K. McGinnis of the Wanhams district while riding through the woods on horseback in search of firewood. Near the den his horse, having sensed the nearness of the bears, bolted. It was when Mr. McGinnis tried to find out what frightened the horse that he found the den in a pile of tangled brush that had been cut last fall.

Mr. Boisvert went out to investigate and when the mother left the den, he took the cubs home.

In all, the three bears lived about two weeks with the Boisverts much to the joy of the whole family, especially the two youngsters who had gleefully given up their playroom to the baby bruns.

But as the days passed and the babies grew, it became obvious that the little bears would have to go. In the two weeks they were at Boisverts they doubled in weight. As their claws and teeth developed their play got rougher.

Mr. Boisvert first tried to send them to a park in Winnipeg but provincial laws wouldn't allow them to leave the province.

He then contacted the Calgary zoo where they were shipped recently.

Before they left, the playful trio had practically taken over the Boisvert home. When brought into the front room they nibbled house plants, clawed around books on shelves and scrambled awkwardly but quickly up onto a soft spot on the chandelier. And after being fed and put in the playroom one day they were found a few minutes later curled up comfortably in Patsy's doll carriage—all three of them.

Today in yesterday's pupil.

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

DEATH AT EASTERIDE

Death at this Easteride is written large on every hand.

The above may seem like a strange statement with which to start an Easter message. But the dominant thought and fact of Easter is the overcoming of death.

Death is as old as the human race, and it is common to all. It is the one leveling factor that bears no dispute or repudiation.

But shocking is the realization that many deaths are the result of carelessness. More tragic even than the loss of sons and fathers on battlefields are the statistics on motor vehicle accidents last year.

We are wont to exclaim, "Why does God permit war?" We deplore the sacrifice of our younger men. Yet, all the time more lives are actually sacrificed under conditions where we are our own "providence."

Just consider society's passive attitude toward drivers of public conveyances who drink while on duty. Remember when total abstinence was an imperative demand upon railroad engineers, at least in times approaching and during their service?

Yet now millions of engine-powered vehicles—the majority of them not confined to tracks—are in the hands of drivers who succumb to the temptations of "package stores", liquor joints and bar-equipped lunchrooms.

The waste of human lives through carelessness is as shameful as the Master's triumph over death is glorious.

Let our Easter thought this year be twofold:

We can overcome needless death through safety precautions.

Death, the great "leveler", can be overcome through those words of Jesus: "Because I live, ye shall live also."

Elbow Action Key In Throwing

Throwing is considered by many top baseball experts to be 70 per cent of the game of baseball. Therefore, any improvement in your throwing action can make an important contribution to your effectiveness. One of the key factors in a powerful and accurate throwing action is the action of the elbow. According to Bert Dunne, famous baseball scientist and advisor to many top ranking baseball clubs, few ball players use the elbow correctly. Dunne says that when the arm starts the throwing action the elbow must lead, it must come through first. Then the forearm is whipped forward quickly to give the throw its power. So, start now and make sure your elbow comes through first. Throw slow and easy until you get the knack and then gradually speed things up—but be sure to learn this trick.

Don't Be Afraid To Clear The Net

Tennis players preparing for the new season should keep in mind the results of a recent survey which showed that the great majority of the points lost are due to the player hitting the ball into the net. Mercer Beasley, probably the world's most successful tennis coach, says, "The average player doesn't realize that it is not smart to try to just clear the net with his strokes. Too many worry too much about hitting that ball beyond the baseline. As a result they hit into the net too often."

The best plan is to give the ball lots of air, clearing the net by at least 16 to 24 inches. By doing this you will make fewer errors and will hit a lot more shots deep in the opposing court—always to your advantage.

Average total rainfall in London is about 25 inches a year.

Sensitive Skin Is A Problem

Many athletes write to Sports College to ask how they can avoid the irritation caused by practising and playing after shaving. This is a problem as a skin freshly shaved can be irritated very unpleasantly when perspiration starts or the wind or sun goes to work. We have found the best bet is to use an electric shaver, since such shavers do not irritate the skin. Tests have illustrated this point very definitely. The reason appears to be that the electric shavers cut the hair at the skin line and do not actually scrape over the skin to any important degree.

TOURIST ENQUIRIES FORECAST RECORD SEASON FOR MANITOBA

The 1954 tourist season promises to be the biggest in Manitoba's history. Hon. Ron Turner, Minister of Industry and Commerce, has announced.

"This year should eclipse even 1953, when tourists spent an estimated $25,000,000 in this province," the Minister stated. Revenue from the tourist industry in 1953 was $1,500,000 more than in the previous year.

About 16,750 enquiries from prospective visitors had been received by the department's Bureau of Travel and Publicity up to March 31, Mr. Turner reported. This is more than 3,000 above the figure for the corresponding period of 1953, he pointed out, and April and May will undoubtedly see a still larger number of enquiries.

The record of enquiries received month by month so far this year, with corresponding figures for 1953 in brackets, were quoted by the Minister as follows: January, 2,000 (1,700); February, 6,000 (2,800); March, 8,750 (9,150).

During 1953, an estimated 850,000 tourists entered the province—about 50,000 more than in 1952. About 500,000 of last year's visitors were from the United States, the rest chiefly from other Canadian provinces.

"The Prior Claim" Film Miners Union Hall Friday Night

A queer little fellow who sports a multi-colored wardrobe, a bull-in-lasso tongue and ball turret eyes, stars in a new science film which proves that "nature had it first". He is a chameleon, and you will meet him in the Moody Institute of Science film "The Prior Claim", which will be shown in the Miners Union hall at 8 p.m. Friday, May 14.

With refreshing originality and persistent curiosity the camera also ferrets out such intriguing facts of nature as the dance of the sooty birds on the Pacific Ocean Midway Islands, the elephant seals of Guadalupe Island which suffers from stomach ulcers, the archer fish which shoots down its prey with a jet of water, a snake equipped with its own sniper-scope and thus anticipating one of the most advanced inventions of our day.

Featuring many other fascinating natural phenomena — all in beautiful natural color, the film demonstrates the fact that even in the wonderful developments which characterize this modern age, man does not have the prior claim. Wherever he may delve he finds that God was there first.

"The Prior Claim" is the sixth in the "Sermons from Science" series of films, which are now showing around the world in 65 countries, and 14 different languages. Produced by Dr. Irwin A. Moon, these films have been enthusiastically received in industry, universities, high schools, church groups and by people in every walk of life. A thrill of new knowledge and discovery awaits all who see this unusual film. The public is cordially invited. There is no admission charge.

WEDDINGS

Baskets of Spring flowers formed the setting for a double ring wedding held recently in St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Calgary, when Miss Olive Alberta Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Brown of Lacombe, became the bride of Mr. Norman Thomson of Calgary.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon E. H. Maddocks. The bride was given in marriage by her father and looked charming in a suit of pale turquoise wool and dæron with pearl and rhinestone trimming and a corsage of red roses and white carnations. Her accessories were bluish pink and she carried a prayer book bound in white mother of pearl, her only ornament in which an excellent record is given of Salvation Army service in Coleman and elsewhere, I would like, officially, to express to you our warm appreciation of your very excellent and generous tribute. I would congratulate you on a fine production.

God bless and be with you. Yours sincerely, R. S. HAREWOOD, Colonel, Chief Secretary.

Announcing a Revolutionary New Gasoline Advancement By TEXACO

New Sky Chief is now Super-Charged with PETROX — an exclusive, petroleum-base element — to give you a new kind of gasoline that delivers MAXIMUM POWER . . . yet actually CUTS ENGINE WEAR!

GREATER SPEEDS and increased stop-and-start driving brought about the need for a new kind of gasoline.

Texaco engineers worked on this problem. They succeeded far beyond our early hopes. Through intensive research they developed a new petroleum-base element — PETROX — and with it have produced a new kind of gasoline.

Here are the astonishing facts, confirmed by more than a million miles of tests. The new Sky Chief, Super-Charged with PETROX, gives you:

1. MAXIMUM POWER yet actually cuts engine wear. How? By protecting valves, valve guides and valve seats, pistons and piston rings against wear, glazing and harmful deposits. For example, on test cars using new Sky Chief, ring wear alone was reduced up to 45%! Spark plug life and efficiency were prolonged over 300%. This kind of protection means maximum driving power is delivered to your wheels where it belongs — instead of out the exhaust pipe.
2. A CLEANER, SMOOTHER ENGINE. Intake system deposits were cut down by as much as 38%. This kind of engine cleanliness, with new Sky Chief, means knock-free performance. From your first tankful you'll notice a new smoothness, a new responsiveness when you step on the gas; quicker starts, quicker warm-ups, faster get-aways, knock-free power to spare for highway and hill.
3. VISIBLE ECONOMY . . . Engines die because they burn themselves out. This new Sky Chief Gasoline, Super-Charged with PETROX, keeps your engine younger. That's why you get maximum power and that's how you cut down wear — and repair bills. That's why you get the extra mileage, real extra mileage that you can check on your speedometer.

DIRECTS OPERATIONS FOR B. EMPIRE GAMES

Bill Herbert, who heads up CBC's Special Events Department in the Pacific region, has been assigned a new job for the next few months. He will direct the network's radio operations for the British Empire Games as part of a CBC team made up of Jack McCabe, network sports director, George Retzlaff, TV program director and Herbert. Both McCabe and Retzlaff are Toronto staffers.

Covering sports is nothing new for 39-year-old Bill Herbert. Prior to joining the CBC seventeen years ago Herbert did a stint as sports write for a Victoria daily.

While working as a "city room" reporter on general assignment, Herbert was one day assigned to help out as a sports writer and for a couple of years spent much of his time covering such widely diversified sports as soccer, English rugby, baseball, track and field swimming. He also covered the Olympic Games in 1948 for the CBC, working as a commentator and producer of two show a day heard on the national network during the duration of the games.

NATURE SCRAPBOOK

Knowledge Essential

Accurate information on the character and extent of our forest resources is essential in order to obtain a knowledge of the balance of growth and drain. Photo - interpretational techniques have been developed to such an extent that accurate estimates of timber volumes may now be made from air photographs with a minimum of ground sampling. Several provincial forest services have embarked on programs of forest inventory based on these photographic methods. As the National Forest Inventory is compiled by the Federal Forestry Branch and is prepared in co-operation with the provincial forest services, its accuracy and coverage will be greatly improved when the present provincial inventories are completed.

It must be pointed out that inventories are but one feature to be considered in the development of scientific forestry. Just as much effort has been devoted to agricultural research so that products from the farms might be improved, so must studies of silvicultural and management problems be intensified in order that Canada's forests may be managed for the maximum output of the most useful products.

Sparrow History

The domestic sparrow, distributed in North America from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Alaska to the Rio Grande and beyond, was first brought to Canada from the Old World, its native home, in the year 1864, when numbers were released at Quebec City for their supposed economic value in the control of noxious insects.

Camouflage

Perhaps you have noticed that the eggs of birds who cover their nests during a temporary absence or are naturally concealed and hidden from view by darkness or vegetation, are usually white, while species that nest more or less in the open generally lay coloured or mottled eggs which, it is believed are not so likely to be seen from above by prying eyes.

Sweet Wood

An acre of good forest land will produce more sugar per year than an acre of sugar beets. Wood sugar, however, is not sweet. Wood sugar is glucose or dextrose. In Europe, this sugar is fermented into feeding feast (50 percent concentrated protein) and is used principally for cattle, hog, and poultry fodder.

Here is the architect's sketch of the Melfort, Sask., Nursing Home for the Aged and Chronically Ill, which is reported will be ready to receive patients by May 1st. The new home will handle one hundred and fifty-one ambulant and bed patients, according to Mr. Steinger, superintendent of Nursing Homes for the province, who explained that the home is now known as a nursing home for the aged and chronically ill. Explaining this further, he said that there are some cases of comparatively young people who require nursing care, and these will be accepted into the home. He cited some sample cases now being taken care of in Saskatoon.

BAND TRUMPETER SWANS—Two rare trumpeter swans were banded recently at their winter "home" on the J. Tomshak farm, near Claimont, Alta., by Bernard Hamm, wildlife officer for this area. The swans swooped down on the Tomshak farm last fall, joining the famous "Tommy" who has been a permanent guest of several years. The winter visitors so far have shown no inclination to leave but in case they do, identifying bands attached to their legs by Mr. Hamm will give conservation officials a record of their travels. Swans thought little of the idea and it took both Mr. Hamm and Mr. Tomshak (above) to hold them before light weight bands were finally slipped around legs. Trumpeter swans whose numbers have dwindled to a comparative handful, have made Peace River country one of their few "ports of call" on the continent. Strict regulations have been drafted to protect them.

BEST ACTRESS—Audrey Hepburn fondles the "Oscar" awarded her as the best actress of the year for her performance in Roman Holiday.

BULL ON WHEELS—In bullfighting language, this pass is known as a "chicuelina," but practising it with a real bull can sometimes be unhealthy. Student matador Gene Banks, right, learns the art of the pass with the use of a horned wheel-barrow contraption being charged by instructor Mario McManus, at the Los Angeles bullfighting school.

THE RAINS CAME—An unusual sight in drought-stricken Kansas recently was the rainswept main street of Wichita. Glad as the citizens were to see the downpour, they nevertheless got off the streets in a hurry.

LIFE ON THE OTHERSIDE—Back-yard gossiping and fence hanging is not confined entirely to the human race, as this long-necked giraffe illustrates. A member of the London zoo, the curious giraffe surveys repairs being made to a pony's hoof.

MORE EGGS THIS FEBRUARY

Canadian hens laid 34,700,000 dozen eggs in February as compared with the revised January total of 36,600,000 dozen and last year's February production of 28,200,000 dozen. During February 27,700,000 dozen were marketed, compared with 30,600,000 in January and 22,900,000 in February, 1953.

SPACE MAN? A man wearing a suit of aluminum foil walks the streets of London on his way to a demonstration of factory equipment. The suit is said to withstand temperatures up to 2,300 degrees centigrade.

ODDITIES IN EATERY—Snake skins, balloon fish and almost every other conceivable oddity decorate the walls, ceilings and shelves of "The Best Place for the Worst Food" in Shepperton, England. Owner Tom Leonard, shown above with some of the curios he collected from all over the world, says his restaurant has had the same menu for five years, and the customers continue to flock in—not so much to eat as to gaze.

PAINLESS PULL—A Los Angeles, Calif., dentist, who advocates hypnosis as a sure cure for dreading a dentist's chair, painlessly extracts a molar from his hypnotized patient, Robert Shannon. Dr. Lawrence Harris pulled the tooth while Shannon held a cup of water in an awkward position above his head without spilling a drop, demonstrating the effectiveness of hypnosis.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

An Eye For Beauty

By Wesley Firth

THE Mexican sat like a wobbling jelly on the patio of his hacienda, a few miles out of Mexico City. I climbed out of the car and in my only words of the lingo, said: "Saludos, amigos."

"Englishmen?" he enquired with an oily smirk.

"Yes," I said. "Seeing your country."

"She es lovely, es she not?" The sun, she es always shining. "I see you have a notice up advertising refreshments." I told him, sitting on the steps. "I'm thirsty."

"Si, si, señor. Please to wait a minute. . . Isabella. . . queek! bring these gentlemen a drink."

The girl who came in answer to his bidding made my eyes pop. I had heard a lot about the beauty of Mexican señoritas, and now I was seeing—and believing. If they grew them this way in the city. . .

She walked gracefully over, skirt swinging against suntanned shapely legs. She placed the bottle on a table and gave me a gleaming smile which almost bowled me over. Then she went back into the hacienda.

The Mexican had been watching me all this time with a sly smile. I settled with him for the drink, and he spat on the coins before slipping them in his pocket.

He said, "The señor es interested en the Señorita?"

I grinned, didn't reply. He dispossessed a wandering flea from his right ear and scratched his head. He said: "Eet es always so. And why not? There is no such joy in life as a lovely señorita."

ita, I know, amigo, I have married three—four times. The beautiful young girl came out again carrying a slop-bucket with the help of a woman with a face like the rear end of a clump of cactus.

They vanished round the building, and I thought that if that was what he'd married, he could not have much of an eye for beauty. When you're old you can't be choosy.

"Aah, yes," he sighed. "Even a poor peon such as I may build himself a wonderful world." He turned on me suddenly. "You are going to Mexico City?"

"Buenos Dias," I said. "Er—I mean si, si."

He smiled: "You do not speak language of my people very well, eh? You need a guide. . . they are thieves."

"Si. There is much of beauty in Mexico City—but the guides, señor, they are all worms and sons of worms. They will rob you of every penny. They will trick you. . . they are thieves."

"I'm afraid it can't be helped, señor," I told him. "I'll have to have one."

He nodded and spat with gravity at a passing lizard. He lit an evil black cigarro, and seemed to have lost interest in me and my needs.

The two women came back, and the young one glanced at me, spoke to her companion. Both giggled, then the older woman with the gargoyles features grasped her arm and hurried her inside.

"My wife and my only daughter," he explained, looking up and following my gaze.

He offered me a cigarro which I hastily refused. He shrugged not unpleased. He blew smoke at the sun above, then transferred his attention to me.

I had been about to rise and leave, but he motioned me back to my seat.

"The English I like and trust," he explained. "I would not do them for an Americano—no, no! But you, Señor, have an honest face."

I had the modesty to blush and mumble: "Nice of you. . ."

"So, I am decided. Send for a small consideration—shall we say—ten dollars?—I will permit my daughter to go to the city with you and show you round. She es very lovely and speaks your language and will protect you from those devils, those robbers."

"But really. . ." I protested. "Isn't it a bit unusual? And perhaps she wouldn't wish to come."

"Señor, she es my daughter. She will come. You agree?"

I agreed. I anticipated quite a time in Mexico City with such a fair companion. He said: "Please to wait here, Señor. I will instruct her to prepare herself for you."

I relaxed, looked out over the desert in the distance. The sun was blazing fiercely; it was siesta time. He came back, this great mountain of a man. Behind him came the two women. . . I wondered if the mother was going to make some objection. And he said, drawing the beautiful young girl forward by the hand. "Señor, there es Isabella, my fourth wife, and these. . ."

"indicating the fat woman, 'ees my little girl, Extralita, daughter of my first wife. She weel go weeth you gladly.'"

And before I could protest the outrageously ugly señorita seized me firmly by the arm and hailed me off towards my car.

Carman Cardinals To Get Minot Mallards Manager

CARMAN MAN—Edward J. Albo, who steered the Minot Mallards to the Mandak league pennant last year, has inked a 1954 contract for the same job with the Carman Cardinals. Mr. Albo met at Minot with L. J. Bennett and W. F. Garnett to make final arrangements.

Mr. Albo is no stranger to those who followed the fortunes of the Carman Cardinals. They remember only too well that fateful week end at Minot last summer when the Cardinals came from behind 10-0 deficits on successive days to defeat the Cards by 11-10 scores. In both cases, it will be remembered, it was this same Mr. Albo who came on in relief and slammed the door very rudely in the faces of Cardinal batters. He posted an 8-2 record with Minot last year, most of his work being done as a relief pitcher. He worked 85 innings and allowed only 19 walks, while striking out 50 and making but three wild pitches.

May Kill Dogs Pursuing Wild Game

Saskatchewan Game Commissioner E. L. Paynter stated today that reports have been received by his office complaining that dogs in some areas of the province have been running at large and in some cases have been reported pursuing deer.

In connection with these complaints, Mr. Paynter pointed out that under Section 27 of the Saskatchewan Game Act, any dog found running at large pursuing big game can be killed by anyone.

In making this announcement, The Provincial Game Commissioner warned all dog owners of this provision in the Game Act and urged dog owners to take all necessary measures to keep their dogs under control.

Mr. Paynter also stressed the possibility of rabies infection among dogs who are allowed to run at large. He noted the winter outbreaks of rabies in Saskatchewan's frontier and northern areas and emphasized that if dogs are allowed to run loose throughout the country, the possibility of rabies infection, although slight, is not remote.

One Hundred Horses Sold At Brandon Sale

One hundred horses sold in Brandon during the week following the Provincial Winter Fair brought an average price of $71.40 each. The sale was sponsored by the Manitoba Horse Breeders' association.

Highest price for an individual horse at the sale was $225, paid for a pony contributed by Judd Miller of Brandon. Buyer was Dr. H. H. Ross, also of Brandon. The team which commanded top price was contributed by Harry Ance, Waskada. A buyer from Dryden, Ontario, E. J. Hutcheson, paid $225 for the team.

Biggest buyer at the sale was a Winnipeg man, I. Kure, who purchased 37 horses. Eighteen head of horses went to Frank R. Johnston of Welwyn, Saskatchewan.

Funny and Otherwise

The second-floor tenant called the party living below and shouted: "If you don't stop playing that blasted saxophone, I'll go crazy."

"I guess it's too late," came the reply. "I stopped an hour ago."

"Why won't you marry me?" he demanded. "There isn't anyone else, is there?"

"Oh, Edgar?" she sighed. "There must be."

"Which is the platform for the London train, please?"

"Very well, then—turn to the right and you'll be left."

At a circus a thoughtful-looking gentleman stood for a long time, studying a camel. At length, he stooped, picked up a straw, and placed it on the camel's back. Nothing happened.

"Wrong straw," the man shrugged, then walked away.

"Tom is marrying a wonderfully accomplished girl. She can swim, ride, drive, play golf and fly a plane. She's a real all-round girl."

"Well, they ought to get along fine. He learned to cook in the army."

Visitor: "These biscuits are lovely, Mrs. Robinson. I don't know how much I've had."

Small Son: "You've had seven."

A plane was flying low over some hills near Athens. From one of its windows a girl peered quizzically, then called to the steward.

"What's that stuff on those hills?" she asked.

"That's snow," came the reply.

"Well," said the girl, "that's what I thought, but the man in front told me it was Greece."

The visitor calling on a small boy's mother was uncertain as to her and rather unimpressed appearance, and the child was doing his best to answer her questions politely.

"And how old are you?" she asked him.

"I'm six," was the reply.

"And how old are you?"

"Oh," she said, looking embarrassed, "I don't remember the year I was born."

"Never mind," answered the small boy politely, "tell me the century."

Two old friends met after a long time, and one was startled at the change in his companion.

"Why, George! What's the matter, what's making you look so old?"

"Trying to keep young," sadly answered George.

"Trying to keep young?"

"Yeah, nine of 'em!"

Game Bird Limits

May Be Cut This Year In Alberta

HANNA, Alta.—Bag limits for Prairie Chicken and Hungarian partridge may be cut this year, according to announcement from the department of Mines and Resources made this week. In the northern part of the province surveys made by government inspectors indicate a cycle which has placed the birds at their lowest peak in nine years. In Southern Alberta, taking in the Hanna district the population appears better and there is a possibility that bag limits in this area will not be reduced. Last year limits (daily) for "Huns" were ten and Prairie Chicken five.

University Receives Grant The University of Saskatchewan received $363,901 from the federal government as the 1953-54 federal grant. Last year the university received $354,102. The grant is based on student enrollment and the increase reflects the increase in attendance at the University of Saskatchewan compared to last year.

Saskatchewan Farmers Showing More Interest In Shelterbelts

REGINA—Saskatchewan farmers are showing increasing interest in shelterbelts, R. E. McKenzie, Director of the provincial plant industry branch, said.

Mr. McKenzie said over two million seedling trees will be distributed in the next several weeks by Forest Nursery Stations at Indian Head and Sutherland to Saskatchewan farms. This is slightly higher than the amount distributed last year. About half of the total will be used for field shelterbelts, mainly in southern and central areas of the province, this amount being sufficient to plant about 350 miles. The remainder will be planted in farmstead shelterbelts, roadside hedges, woodlots.

Broadleaf varieties are supplied free of charge to farmers by the forest nursery stations, while a nominal fee is charged for evergreens. In all cases the farmer pays express collect charges. The Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture pays up to $3.00 per mile of the cost of planting, field shelterbelts and also pays half the cost of tree planting machines purchased by municipalities. Thirteen of these machines, each capable of planting 1,500 trees per hour, were purchased under this plan last year by municipalities, bringing the total since the project started in 1952 to 23 machines.

Most frequently ordered are caragana, with other broadleaf trees being ash, boxelder, elm, willow and poplar. Evergreen varieties are white spruce, Colorado spruce and Scotch spruce.

Mr. McKenzie pointed out that trees conserve moisture through holding snowfall in the field, trapping snow around dams and dugouts, and reducing surface evaporation. The reduction of wind velocity also helps control soil drifting and assists in keeping roads open during the winter.

Further information on tree planting is available from the Forest Nursery Station at Indian Head or Sutherland, Agricultural Representatives, or the Department of Agriculture, Administration Building, Regina.

Banded Geese

Return To Farmer

TOFIELD, Alta.—Homing pigeons have nothing on three Canada Geese which arrived at Charles Oulton's farm here, 38 miles southeast of Edmonton.

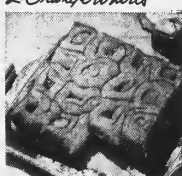

Culton recognized them in a flock of 18 which landed exhausted on his house, apparently after a non-stop flight of several hundred miles. They were three he had reared and banded.

REFRESHMENTS

THE ALBERTA GOLDEN JUBILEE ANTHOLOGY

The Golden Jubilee Committee of the Government of the Province of Alberta has announced the publication in 1955 of a volume to contain the best original work of Alberta authors—fiction, poetry, drama, articles and radio scripts; and has appointed an Editorial Board to make the necessary selection. Hereinunder are the rules and regulations to govern the submission of manuscripts.

ELIGIBILITY AND RULES:-

1. Any resident of Alberta is eligible to submit manuscripts.
2. Manuscripts must be original and previously unpublished, typewritten and double-spaced. The editors, however, reserve the right to modify this regulation if necessary.
3. A pen name may be used for publication.
4. Authors desiring the return of unacceptable manuscripts please enclose a self-addressed envelope to facilitate their return.
5. Manuscripts required consist of articles relating to Alberta, historical or general, up to a length not to exceed 2,500 words; fiction on any theme, locale or period, up to a length not exceeding 5,000 words (a shorter length is preferred) poetry not to exceed 42 lines. Radio and dramatic scripts will also be considered. Since the Editorial Board reserves the right to assign feature articles, authors with articles in mind should first write to the Secretary outlining their ideas or idea. Assignment, however, does not necessarily mean acceptance.
6. Under a standard contract agreement with the publisher, McClelland and Stewart, royalties deriving from the sale of the book will be paid to the Edmonton Branch, Canadian Authors' Association. After deducting necessary expenses, the Edmonton Branch, Canadian Authors' Association will pay such monies to the authors published in the book on a pro-rata basis.
7. All rights (inclusive of second rights, reprint, periodicals, TV, and motion picture) are to be held by the publisher.
8. The Editorial Board will evaluate all scripts, reserving the right to alter, re-write, condense, and combine manuscripts. Final selection of manuscripts, however, will be made by the editors of McClelland and Stewart.
9. The submission of any manuscript signifies an acceptance of all the rules, regulations, and conditions as above stated.
10. DEADLINE—All manuscripts must be in the hands of the Secretary by June 30th, 1954.
